Contrary to its reputation, forensic science errors have contributed to myriad wrongful convictions. In this talk, Dr. Kuckuka will describe his research on the causes and consequences of bias and error in the forensic sciences, including various reform measures that have been met with a mix of enthusiasm and resistance.